Diti Hill recently retired as Senior Lecturer in the Faculty of Education at the University of Auckland and is still involved in post-graduate supervision, research and writing. Diti facilitates professional development, drawing on the pedagogy of Reggio Emilia. She is a trustee of REANZ, an organisation that promotes the philosophy and pedagogy of Reggio Emilia in the Aotearoa context and is national president of OMEP Aotearoa. Diti is passionate about inspiring teachers to explore and debate the nature of the teaching-learning process and to reflect on the effect that personal pedagogical practice has on their own lives and the lives of the children they teach.

In this seminar we will delve into the updated Te Whāriki, researching how kaiako can engage with the exemplary and inspirational pedagogy and philosophy of Reggio Emilia to bring 'depth and breadth' to teaching practices in our context here in Aotearoa. This is an opportunity to rethink, rediscover and RE IMAGINE our 'old friend' Te Whāriki through the inspirational lens that Reggio Emilia provides. Please bring your updated copy of Te Whāriki.
